

Paule ASSOUMOU KOKI
Director General
Cameroon Civil Aviation Authority

Madam KOKI is a civil aviation engineer with more than 30 years' experience in the aviation system.

She began her career in Cameroon in 1989 within the Directorate of Civil Aviation. In 1994, Madam KOKI joined ASECNA, the air navigation services provider in Cameroon, where she occupied the position of Head of the air navigation department for two years.

Between 1996 and 2008, she worked with the United Nations in various locations and capacities. She returned to Cameroon to develop the first approved training school in Cameroon in her capacity of Head of training.

In 2012, Madam KOKI joined the Cameroon Civil Aviation Authority as Director of aviation safety and was later designated OPS inspector. For four years, she coordinated all safety oversight related activities in the aviation industry in Cameroon. She got promoted as Director General in December 2015.

In 2018, Madam KOKI received two awards from CEO Global Magazine as the Africa's most influential woman in business and government, in the category "Government and regulatory authorities".