AIR CARGO: THE ENGINE OF INTERNATIONAL TRADE

35%

The air cargo industry accounts for an estimated 35% of the value of goods exchanged worldwide, against 1 or 2 % of the tonnage

Air cargo is both part of, and distinct from, the core business of network passenger airlines:

- Distinct distribution chain
- Uni-directional market
- Less sensitive to routing
- Special Handling
- Heavy paperwork
- High levels of security requirements
- Diverse nature

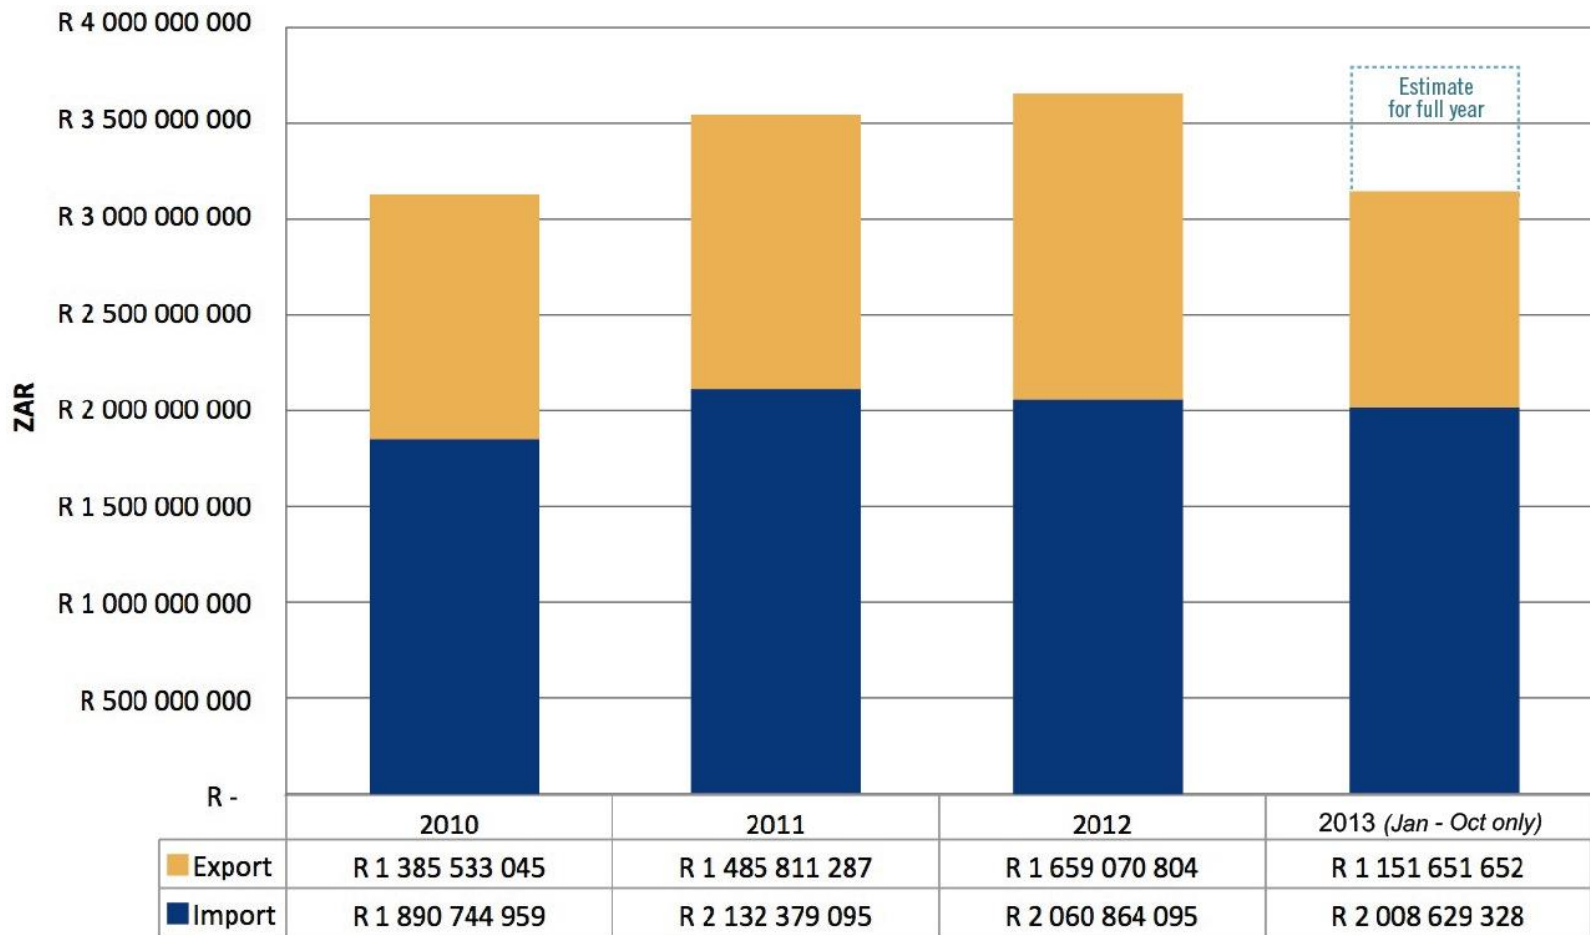

STRATEGIC OBJECTIVES

- Facilitate new air services to international and regional markets
- Facilitate cargo growth
- Stimulate private sector investment
- Support for and enablement of new export supply chains, inclusive of high-value manufacturing
- Support for and strengthening of the tourism and perishable goods sector

Ultimately stimulate local economic activities and job creation
