

ICAO NGAP Global Summit

How ICAO, States, industry and academia can work together to make education accessible to students?

Philippe Crébassa, VP, acting President

Europe's #1 Aviation University

Accredited by the Ministry of Higher Education under direct supervision of French CAA

At a glance

Est. in 1948, HQ in Toulouse

9 campuses in France

31 educational programs, Bachelor to PhD

910 employees

116 aircraft & 15 simulators, ATC

One Research Lab, 4 Teams

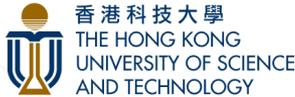

3,000 students

900 pilots & instructors

6,000 trainees

2/3 are international, 40 nationalities in 2017

Hubs in Asia, Middle East, Africa, Latin America

Making education (more) accessible

- Availability

Anticipating future competences

- Accessibility

Innovative pedagogical methods & tools

- Affordability

Managing the quality / cost ratio

a 3D cooperation

The China case

Capacity building in technical areas

Further professional developments

A key project: the Sino-French Institute

Expanding education & research

Bridging the gap

Linking Higher Education and Professional Training

Access to further studies

Career development

Retraining & changing job

Employers as a trigger for change

Keeping the syllabus up-to-date

Faculty & Industry complementary inputs

Educational advisory council

Partnering with ICAO

- ENAC, a European ICAO RTCE
- Commitment to the TRAINAIR PLUS programme
- Towards a joint development of new programmes
- Creating a global network of academia

ありがとう

谢谢

धन्यवाद

شكرا لك

Gracias

Спасибо

Merci

Grazie

Obrigado

Vielen Dank

