

Mr. Wojciech Soltysiak

Chief Technology & Innovation Officer, CHAMP Cargosystems

As CT&IO based in Luxembourg, Wojciech Soltysiak oversees driving innovation through digital technologies and is responsible for creating and maintaining the digital strategy.

As part of that, Wojciech defines the requirements for new technological directions, builds relevant business models and leads innovation projects. Wojciech's primarily focus is now on Data and Analytics, Machine Learning, Artificial Intelligence and Block Chain usability across Supply Chain.

Wojciech works directly with Supply Chain stakeholders helping them utilize digital technologies to improve data usage, network design and enhance organizational efficiency within end to end logistics processes.

Wojciech has over 20 years professional experience working in leadership positions in Capgemini, Software AG and also for large multinational pharmaceutical and manufacturing companies with global technology responsibility.

In his previous role at CHAMP Wojciech was managing CHAMP Cloud, which was recognized recently with several European Awards.
