

Robert Donald

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, CANADIAN COUNCIL OF AVIATION & AEROSPACE (CCAA)

Robert Donald is the Executive Director and CEO of the Canadian Council for Aviation and Aerospace (CCAA) and Counsel to the aviation practice of DLA Piper (Canada) LLP.

Robert is a former General Counsel of the International Air Transport Association (IATA) and spent ten years with IATA in Geneva and Montreal. Mr. Donald was the Secretary of the IATA Legal Committee and he has been a delegate to numerous diplomatic conferences including the ICAO Diplomatic Conference, which adopted Montreal 1999.

Robert received his degree in law from McGill University, a B.A. from Concordia University, and a postgraduate diploma in European Competition law from King's College in London England.