

My brief resume

Sam Mahlangu is a business leader with over twenty (20) years of experience in corporate strategy, business development and commercialisation, training, and stakeholder engagement. He is currently the Head of Training Delivery and Systems at the Air Traffic and Navigation Services (ATNS) Aviation Training Academy (ATA) of South Africa. He leads a portfolio that includes strategy formulation, planning, implementation, and governance of the training delivery and aviation infrastructure management (CNS/ATM Systems).

Mr Sam holds a National Diploma in Electrical Engineering, a Bachelor of Technology degree in Business Administration, a postgraduate diploma and a master's degree in business administration (MBA) from the Tshwane University of Technology, University of Johannesburg, and Wits Business School, respectively. He also holds an Executive Management, Business Strategy and Project Management certificate from the University of La Verne (USA), and recently completed the International Executive Development Programme with the Gordon's Institute of Business Science (GIBS – University of Pretoria)

Mr Sam serves as an industry Advisory Board Member in the Department of Electrical and Electronic Engineering at the Nelson Mandela University, University of Johannesburg, Cape Peninsula University of Technology, and the Central University of Technology. He also serves as the Regional Director of Africa for the International Federation of Air Traffic Safety Electronics Associations (IFATSEA).