

Chun Yang Ong

Deputy Director (Aviation Industry), Civil Aviation Authority of Singapore

Currently at the Aviation Industry division at the Civil Aviation Authority of Singapore, the division's focus centers on working closely with industry partners to grow the aviation industry by raising airport productivity and capabilities alongside manpower development. Prior to the Aviation Industry division, he had also undertaken various roles covering air transport economic policies, international relations, aviation safety regulation and airport terminal planning and development.