

Gun Young Lee

Professor, Korea National University of Transportation

Professor Gun-Young Lee, has played a vital role in establishing and expanding aviation safety in the Republic of Korea.

Before he joined the Korea National University of Transportation, he was in charge of planning and implementation of International cooperation and collaboration at the office of International Program & Policy, Ministry of Land, Infrastructure and Transport.

He was a national coordinator of ICAO Universal Safety Oversight Audit Program (USOAP) and achieved world best rate of implementation of the International Standards and Recommended Practices.

He studied at the Korea Aerospace University and holds a Bachelor's degree in Aeronautical Engineering, Master of Aviation Transportation, and Ph. D. in Business Administration.