Empowering Controllers for tomorrow's
Air Traffic Management

The first collaborative ATCO network between active controllers and a system supplier, designed to discuss and share ideas on the key current and future issues facing ATM.

Designed by controllers, for controllers

Controllers from all over the world and Thales ambassadors will combine their experience and expertise to innovate new ATM solutions that will ensure:

- Safety of operations.
- Leveraging real users experience.
- An evolution that will meet tomorrow's needs.

Open discussions between ambassadors & You to share best practices, to address real needs and to anticipate what will be required in the future ATM systems.

Listen to podcast interviews with experts within the ATM industry as they share their experience and knowledge on current and future ideas with you.
