Webinar Studies on the Regulatory Impact of Air Services Agreements for the Promotion of the Liberalization of the Air Transport Market in Latin America and the Caribbean

(On-line, 13 September 2022)

Concept:

The webinar Studies on the Regulatory Impact of Air Services Agreements for the Promotion of the Liberalization of the Air Transport Market in Latin America and the Caribbean is an initiative of ICAO and the Inter-American Development Bank (IADB), which aims to present the benefits of the aforementioned studies and promote the liberalization of the air transport market in Latin America and the Caribbean, raising awareness among the civil aviation authorities, economic regulators and industry stakeholders on the key role of wide market access.

In this sense, this event will focus on the analysis and the impacts of the studies carried out on air services agreements and on presenting the specific benefits provided to the sector, the understanding the importance of aviation liberalization policies, the economic benefits as well as knowledge of the methodologies and techniques used by ICAO and the IADB, and the necessary steps to carry out other studies.
