Required: Register online by 10 August 2022

Dear Sir/Madam,

Following the recommendations and observations gathered by ICAO from the State Civil Aviation Authority Directors General (DGCAs) on supporting the best preparation and updates for the DGCA role as leader of aviation in each State on attending the major aviation priorities and needs, we are pleased to invite you to register for the newly launched Directors General of Civil Aviation (DGCAs) Programme on Aviation Resilience and Workshop on ICAO SARPs Compliance, Assembly Preparations and Technical Cooperation Activities.

This 3-day Programme, developed by ICAO and the Civil Aviation Authority of Singapore (CAAS), aims to provide a platform to address recovery and resilience of the global aviation sector, through the alignment with internationally coordinated guidance developed by ICAO. Seizing the opportunity of the upcoming 41st Session of the ICAO Assembly, additional modules had been integrated in this Programme to brief and update States on their obligations regarding ICAO SARPs compliance, the benefits of ICAO's Technical Cooperation Programme and main priorities in view of the ICAO Assembly.

The Programme, delivered in a face-to-face format, targets DGCAs as well as senior management of civil aviation authorities of ICAO's 193 Member States. It covers lessons learnt from the COVID-19 pandemic crisis, with a particular focus on aviation safety, sustainability, emerging issues and resilience-building, while improving alignment with international best practices.
