1. Introduction

1.1 The purpose of Search and Rescue (SAR) services is to provide assistance with maximum efficiency in the rescue of persons on board aircraft in distress and, on request to ensure aeronautical assistance to the rescue of human lives on land or at sea.

1.2 Pursuant to ICAO Annex 12, France is legally bound to organize and provide search and rescue services in the entire SAR area under its responsibility. Therefore, France fulfils this mission in French Guiana and French West Indies, through its ANSP, Direction des Services de la Navigation Aérienne (DSNA).

1.3 Cayenne Control Center, Martinique and Guadeloupe towers belong to Service de la Navigation Aérienne Antilles Guyane (SNA-AG), which is DSNA's regional service provider.

3. Exercises (Search and Rescue Implementation Task Force Meeting)

3.1 ICAO and International Maritime Organization (IMO), both in Annex 12 and in the IAMSAR Manual, strongly emphasize the need for States to carry out SAR Exercises and Simulations, with which Operations Plans are tested and improved, as well as helping to highlight and evaluate the true effectiveness of the training, efficiency and competence of the SAR Service in Operations, highlighting the defects that the SAR plans may suffer, allowing us to identify and improve them.

3.2 The Meeting recognized the importance of Search and Rescue Exercise (SAREX) at the different levels of the exercises. It was motivated to carry out SAR exercises, share experiences and promote interregional experience through them.
