1 Introduction

- 1.1 In accordance with the Phase II Programme document, the steering committee is headed by a Chairperson, who is supported by a Vice-Chairperson.
- 1.2 They are elected from different active members of the Programme.
- 1.3 This paper recalls the provisions on the chairpersons as stipulated in Phase II Programme Document, provides the history of the current chairs and reports on their achievements.

2 Discussion

- 2.1 According to the Phase II Programme document, the duration of the term of the chairpersons is aligned with the duration of the corresponding Phase and new chairpersons emanating from different States shall be elected to ensure a broader geographical representation.
- 2.2 The roles and responsibilities of the chairpersons with regards to Phase II provisions are the followings:
 - a) Convene the steering committee meeting;
 - b) Conduct the steering committee meetings;
 - c) Act on behalf on the steering committee including invitation of other stakeholders and/or experts to attend the meetings as needed in order to assist the Programme in achieving its objectives.
- 2.3 The Programme Phase II was chaired by Capt. Gilbert Kibe representing the Kenya Civil Aviation Authority as chair and Mr Sinaly Silué representing the civil aviation authority of Côte d'Ivoire (ANAC CI) as vice-chair. They have been elected on 6 February 2019 during the fifth steering committee meeting.
- 2.4 It should be noted that we've chaired Phase I but also Phase II in the absence of candidate during the fifth steering committee meeting. It is therefore time to apply the principles of good governance and handover the position to a new team.
- 2.5 Our term for Phase II was impacted by the Covid-19 disastrous pandemic which locked us at home or within our respective States, preventing the whole aviation industry and system to operate normally and reduced our financial resources. As a consequence, many active members were not able to honor their commitments, projects were paused and trainings and workshops were to be conducted virtually.
- 2.6 Nevertheless, payments were received from some of the active members to which the meeting should express its sincere thanks. During this difficult period, we kept assuming our role and managing unforeseen events. Together with the two ICAO Regional Offices and the AFPP team, we brought
