

Marco Merens

-----
Marco Merens is safety data analysis officer in ICAO's Integrated Safety Management section. He started his career as an aeronautical engineer at Airbus in Toulouse working on the design of avionic and flight control systems for the A340 and A380. He then went back to his home country of Luxembourg to join the CAA where he held various positions from head of the airworthiness department to the manager of the CAA's occurrence reporting and analysis system, before joining ICAO in 2009 at his current position.