DALE WRIGHT BIO

Dale Wright is currently the Director of Safety and Technology for the National Air Traffic Controllers Association (NATCA). His duties and responsibilities are to oversee all safety and technology issues for the Air Traffic Controllers in the United States. After 32 years as an air traffic controller Mr. Wright retired in 2007 from the Charlotte (KCLT) Air Traffic Control Facility. Mr. Wright has served as the Industry Co-Chair for the National Runway Safety Council in the United States for the past year.